At Kristal we use the latest digital printing technology, enabling us to create the highest quality stretched canvas art. It doesn't matter whether your images are from a digital camera, or out of a photo album – anything can be used for printing. We can produce bespoke prints and photos to canvas from any original photograph supplied, or from art work you have created yourself. Simply send us or bring in your digital file, or your actual photo which will be scanned at a high resolution to enable us to prepare the file for printing. Because we use only the best printing technology available in the digital print market, means your photo to canvas will be nothing less than stunning!
